Member Commitments and Benefits

As an individual member of BBCAN you will have access to a number of benefits and are also asked to fulfill some basic commitments. Below is a list of both.

Commitments

- Members shall endorse the BBCAN mission statement in support of our values, principles, and platform. Endorsing our mission does not imply automatic support for particular campaigns, initiatives, positions, or policy recommendations. Support and sign-ons for specific issues will be solicited as needed.
- Members shall make every effort to adhere to a spirit of cooperation, common courtesy and common sense. Information shared in BBCAN meetings and on calls should be considered sensitive and confidential. Members should do their best not to divulge sensitive and or confidential information. Discretion is always advised.
- Collaborate in a minimum of two BBCAN events or committee campaigns. Members are highly encouraged to attend our Annual BBCAN meeting.
- Members will avoid using the BBCAN list-serve and email list for discussion of sensitive strategic information. Nonetheless, there will be communication, such as drafts of press statements and communications with key officials, distributed over the list-serve, and for that reason the list-serve must be considered confidential.
- Members may not forward any email from BBCAN members or BBCAN committees to individuals or groups outside BBCAN without express permission from the author and or committee.
